The NGO SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL assists populations affected by conflicts and violence, epidemics, natural or climate-related disasters and economic collapse. Our humanitarian teams are committed to helping people whose lives, health and security are threatened, by meeting their most vital needs: food, water, shelter and hygiene.

SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL responds to crises by distributing emergency aid in person and, in parallel, by implementing long-term solutions that enable affected populations to regain sustainable access to water, sanitation, hygiene, diversified livelihoods and safe housing.

The ultimate aims of SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL’s action are protection, dignity and autonomy.

MEETING COMPLEX CHALLENGES IN DIFFICULT CONTEXTS

Thanks to its extensive field experience and expertise, SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL is able to work in the most hard-to-reach areas and in particularly dangerous contexts.

SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL also demonstrates unique technical and social engineering capabilities, which we continue to perfect by building on the innovations and development efforts of our teams and partners.

FOR 40 YEARS, AND FOR AS LONG AS IT TAKES

SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL’s commitment to assist populations affected by the most severe crises dates back to 1980.

We always provide aid at the request of the affected population or its representatives, in cooperation with our local partners, and we are fiercely determined to constantly uphold the humanitarian principles of humanity, independence, impartiality and neutrality.

Our field teams mainly comprise locally hired staff, to help ensure that the aid provided fits the population’s needs as closely as possible.

THE FIRST RESPONSE TO HUMAN SUFFERING MUST BE SOLIDARITY

Alain Boinet, founder of SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL

The intensification and persistence of armed conflicts, epidemic outbreaks, an increase in famine, increasingly severe and more frequent natural and climatic disasters: the rise in and worsening of humanitarian crises require an even stronger commitment towards those most vulnerable.

SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL’s strategic plan for 2022-2025 takes into account the worrying increase in humanitarian needs and proposes several mechanisms in order to respond to these immense challenges.

In line with work begun in recent years, our NGO intends to continue its work on access to difficult areas, its responsiveness to emergencies, its research and innovation efforts and the development of partnerships with local actors. This strategy also motivates us to improve our structure in a number of key areas, in light of evolving global issues and the transformation that the humanitarian sector is facing. Expertise, commitment, transparency, and above all boldness: the values that guide our 2022-2025 strategic plan have been at the heart of our NGO’s mission to respond to human suffering through solidarity for over 40 years.

1. Increase our global impact

In the face of increasing differences of access, we must maintain an ambitious crisis response capacity and continue to improve the effectiveness and responsiveness of our interventions.

- Increase our response and projection capacities in new contexts
- Progressively increase the number of countries where we operate,
- Ensure our interventions are not limited to the “Water, Sanitation and Hygiene” (WaSH) sector alone, but also integrate “Food security”, “Livelihoods” and “Shelter”.
- In the face of epidemics, crises, be a reference ally for healthcare professionals who operate in emergency contexts.

2. Integrating the protection of the most vulnerable at the heart of all of our actions

Until now, our NGO’s approach has been primarily sectorial. We now need to move towards a more individualized analysis of the vulnerabilities and needs of the populations.

- Increase our capacities to analyse vulnerabilities
- Develop a survey and analysis capacity specifically adapted to hard-to-reach areas
- Systematically integrate gender issues, child protection and the protection of children in particularly vulnerable situations (age, disability, origin, belief, etc.) in our modalities of intervention, in all phases of our programs (design, implementation, evaluation)
- Better understand the stakes of the conflicts and ensure that the responses we provide do not inadvertently aggregate existing sociopolitical tensions
- Share our assessments with the humanitarian community

3. Providing sustainable solutions in fragile contexts

The confluence between humanitarian and development work allows us to respond to the emergency of vital needs while putting in place sustainable solutions.

- Planning the long term, from the emergency phase: It implies studying the possibility of developing sustainable solutions and approaches in each of our intervention zones, in parallel with our emergency actions
- Significantly increase the number of “double-nexus” projects on our core expertise
- Develop strategic alliances to complete our expertise
- Systematically integrate gender issues, child protection and the protection of people in particularly vulnerable situations (age, disability, origin, belief, etc.) in our modalities of intervention, at all phases of our programs (design, implementation, evaluation)

4. Acting for and with communities and vulnerable populations

By 2025, we will aim at systematizing the participation of the people and communities we serve, in the design, monitoring and adjustment of the programmatic strategies we implement.

- Use an accessible and reciprocal communication with the beneficiaries of our programs
- Develop methods of active participation to allow them to be actors and co-responsible for the humanitarian responses we propose
- Pay particular attention to the voice of women and marginalised populations

5. Encouraging action-research and the development of innovative approaches

- Move towards a more horizontal knowledge management through the development of transversal communication tools, common to our entire organization
- Improve our data collection and data management processes to better evaluate our actions
- Co-create knowledge
- By multiplying collaborations with academic actors and laboratories on topics where SOLIDARITÉS INTERNATIONAL has strong expertise
- By sharing and showcasing the knowledge we acquired (through communication and participation to clusters, working groups and thematic or geographic coordination platforms)

Allowing the emergence of new solutions

- Promote innovation in favor of the most vulnerable. Allocation of resources to the most promising projects and with significant potential for spin-off will be made systematically
- Focus on open innovation by working with partners and relying on new technologies. We will pay particular attention to “low tech” solutions, which are easy to use and have a low environmental impact
